

2005-06 WHEATON ACADEMY GAME NOTES

WHEATON ACADEMY WARRIORS (0-4) vs. ILLIANA CHRISTIAN VIKINGS (3-2)

Game #5, Home Game #1

Friday, December 02, 2005 – 7:30 PM CT

Private School League Contest

GAME OUTLOOK

Wheaton Academy opens up for the first time this season at home against a very tough Illiana Christian Vikings basketball team. The Vikings themselves faced a good team Tuesday night as they lost 81-54 to Timothy Christian, dropping them to 3-2 overall this season. The Warriors played in the St. Charles East Invitational Tournament last week and dropped all four games, but played well against Palatine last Saturday in the 68-55 loss. Wheaton Academy is eager to get after the Vikings early on in this highly intense PSL matchup.

LAST YEAR AGAINST ILLIANA [Recap courtesy of wheatonacademybasketball.com] In a key Private School League matchup

Friday night, Wheaton Academy met conference heavyweight Illiana Christian. The Warriors began their night a little awkwardly, but regained composure closing out the quarter just two point behind. Jason VanderVeen contributed five straight points (3-point basket, layup) in the first quarter.

Wheaton Academy continued solid play in this back-and-forth game. They set the pace for the game, playing confidently, though taking some ill-advised shots. Going into the locker room, they led 26-21.

Turnovers and missed free throws started to hurt WA in the third quarter, and things started to turn Illiana's way. Down one with 3:38, the Vikings stretched their lead to 4 at the end of the quarter.

Wheaton Academy failed to have a consistent continuity offensively. Missed free throws, and missed layups is what gave the Warriors a loss tonight. The game was still very close, even with the way WA played.
